

试卷满分 100 分。考试时间 90 分钟。

Part I Vocabulary and Structure (1 point, 20%)

- A.conscious B.aware C.alert D.conscientious
12. It was _____ of you not to play the piano while I was asleep.
A.considerable B.considerate C.consistent D.constant
13. If you want to improve your English, you had better pay _____ in class.
A.care B.respect C.attention D.caution
14. I feel sorry because I can not find anything _____ to satisfy the children's needs.
A.but B.else C.or D.other
15. Jim denied _____ the window, but I am sure he did.
A.to break B.breaking C.break D.to have broken
16. Road works on the highway are holding _____ the traffic.
A.back B.on C.onto D.up
17. Great changes have taken place in China _____ she went abroad ten years ago.
A.since B.when C.as D.after
18. It is no use _____ over spilt milk.
A.crying B.to be crying C.to cry D.to have cried
19. Mary found it hard _____ the latest development in fashion.
A.to keep up with B.to keep up
C.keeping up with D.keep up with
20. I regret _____ that I could not carry out the task you assigned.
A.letting you know B.to let you to know
C.to let you know D.letting you to know

Part II Use of English (1 point, 10%)

- 第 1 页 共 4 页

26. Can I take your order? _____.
A.By no means. B.Sorry, it's not my order.
C.Thank you for your asking. D.Wait a minute. Two friends are coming.
27. Would you mind if I open the window? _____.
A.That's fine, thank you. B.Take a rest.
C.Yes, please. D.Of course not.
28. Which festival is the most important in Chinese? _____.
A.The Spring Festival. B.Yes, I like it.
C.I will you later. D.I will think about it.
29. What do you do on the weekends? _____.
A.I like it. B.I don't know.
C.I have a good rest. D.I need help.
30. I find it exciting to chat on-line. How about you? _____.
A.Yes, I am. B.No, I'm not.
C.Well, I find it rather strange. D.I cannot find it.

Part III Reading Comprehension (2 points, 30%)

Passage One

Mrs. Jones' telephone number was 3463, and the number of the cinema in her town was 3464, so people often made a mistake when they wanted the cinema.

One evening the telephone bell rang and Mrs. Jones answered it. A tired man said, "At what time does your last film begin?"

"I'm sorry," said Mrs. Jones, "but you have the wrong number. This is not the cinema"

"Oh, it began twenty minutes ago," said the man, "I'm sorry about that. Goodbye."

Mrs. Jones was very surprised, so she told her husband. Mr. Jones laughed and said, "The man's wife wanted to go to the cinema, but he was feeling tired, so he telephoned the cinema. His wife heard HIM, but she didn't hear YOU. Now they will stay at home this evening, and the husband will be happy!"

31. Why do people often telephone Mrs. Jones when they want the cinema?
A.Because she lives next door to the cinema.
B.Because she knows the cinema program very well.
C.Because the telephone company's computer goes wrong from time to time.
D.Because her telephone number is similar to that of the cinema.
32. Why was Mrs. Jones so surprised at a phone call one evening?
A.Because the call was from a stranger.
B.Because the man on the phone knew her name
C.Because the man on the phone asked a question and then answered it himself.
D.Because the man on the phone invited her to the cinema.

33. According to Mr. Jones, why didn't the man on the phone want to go to the cinema?
A.Because he had seen the film before.
B.Because he was feeling very tired that evening.
C.Because the film wasn't worth seeing.
D.Because the film had started already.
34. What do you think the man's wife wanted to do that evening?
A.To go to the cinema with her husband.
B.To find out when the last film started.
C.To stay home with her husband.
D.To eat out with her husband and then go to the cinema.
35. What can you conclude from the story?
A.The man on the phone was not interested in film.
B.The man on the phone was rather clever.
C.The man's wife was fond of films.
D.The telephone companies are inefficient sometimes.

Passage Two

We are all in a rush. We are hurrying here and there. The pressure of time characterizes life today. People like living at a breakneck speed. Fast-food restaurants, one minute bedtime stories, microwave ovens, quick freezers, instant noodles, automatic dial buttons on the telephone, the remote control of a television, emails, the Internet, all these have caused a speed-up in the pace of people's life. These days it is possible to drive, eat, listen to the radio, watch a TV show or talk on the phone all at once, if you dare. Not long ago, for most people, listening to the radio was a single-task activity. Now it is rare for a person to listen to the radio and do nothing else. Even television has lost its command of our attention. In so many houses the TV just stays on, like a noisy light, while the life of the busy family passes back and forth in front of it.

In the technology-driven Western world, the increasing wealth and the increasing education bring a sense of tension about time. People believe that they have little time. They wish they had 48 hours a day. American culture views time as a thing to be kept and saved. Time saving is a subject often talked about and discussed. Books with such titles as Streamlining Your Life; Take Your Time; More Hours in My Day are always best sellers. People have talked and wanted many ways to "save time". But what does this concept mean? Does time saving mean getting more done? If so, does talking on a mobile phone at the beach save time or waste it? If you can choose between a 30 minute train ride, during which you can read and a 20 minute drive, during which you cannot read, does this drive save ten minutes? Does it make sense to say driving saves ten minutes from your travel budget while removing ten minutes from your reading budget?

These questions have no answer. They depend on a concept that is ill formed; the very idea of Time saving. Some of us say we want to save time when really we just want to do more and faster. It might be simplest to recognize that there is time and we make choices about how to spend it, how to spare it, how to use it and how to fill it.

Time is not a thing we have lost. It is not a thing we ever had. It is what we live in.

36. According to the passage, what characterizes life today is that we _____.
 A. are all in a rush B. live at a breakneck speed
 C. save a lot of time D. feel time is pressing
37. In the sentence, "These days it is possible to drive, eat, listen to the radio, watch a TV show or talk on the phone all at once..." the phrase "all at once" means all _____.
 A. immediately B. at the same time
 C. quickly D. instantly
38. The author believes that the increasing wealth and the increasing education bring a sense of tension _____.
 A. about time B. among people
 C. with more things to do D. both A and B
39. The author _____ the American idea that time is a thing that can be kept and saved.
 A. believes in B. does not believe
 C. is doubtful about D. is certain about
40. The best title for this passage is _____.
 A. Can We Save Time? B. What is Time?
 C. The Idea of Time saving D. The Importance of Time saving

Passage Three

Computers are useful machines. They can help people a lot in their everyday life. For example, they can help people save much time, and they can help people work out many problems they can't do easily. Our country asks everyone to learn to use computers, except the old people.

Today more and more families own computers. Parents buy computers for their children. They hope computers can help them improve their studies in school. Yet many of the children use computers to play games, to watch video or to sing karaoke, instead of studying. So many teachers and parents complain that computers can not help children to study but make them fall behind, so computers are locked by parents in the boxes.

In some other countries, even some scientists also hate computers. They say computers let millions of people lost their jobs or bring them a lot of trouble.

Will computers really bring trouble to people or can they bring people happiness? It will be decided by people themselves!

41. Computers are useful machines because _____.
 A. our country asks everyone to learn it well.
 B. it can help us a lot.
 C. we can use it to play games.
 D. it can help us work out difficult problems.
42. Many teachers and parents complain that _____.
 A. their students and children use computers to play games.
 B. computers let them lose their jobs
 C. computers make the students and children not study better than before
 D. computers bring people a lot of trouble.
43. In this passage, we know computers _____.
 A. also bring us trouble. B. bring us happiness only.
 C. are hated by people. D. are bad for people's health
44. Can computers really help children to study?
 A. Yes, they can. B. It's hard to say.
 C. No, they can't. D. Of course not.
45. How do you understand the under-lined sentence of this passage? I think it means _____.
 A. computers are used by people
 B. people can live well without computers.
 C. one must decide how to use computers
 D. computers are strange machines.

Part IV Cloze (1 point, 10%)

Scientists say that the disappearance of the trees is already 46 changes in the climate. What will happen if 47 of the Amazon forest is cut down? According to scientists, two things are 48 to happen: there will be serious effects on the world's 49 and the air we 50 will lose some of its oxygen.

The temperature will 51; the ice-caps at the North and South Poles will 52; the sea 53 will rise, and hundreds of coastal cities will be flooded. All scientists agree that if _____ we 54 the Amazon forest, life on earth will become difficult, and it may become 55

- | | | | |
|------------------|------------|---------------|--------------|
| 46. A. producing | B. making | C. causing | D. stopping |
| 47. A. some | B. any | C. less | D. more |
| 48. A. like | B. alike | C. likewise | D. likely |
| 49. A. condition | B. climate | C. weather | D. situation |
| 50. A. breathe | B. breath | C. possess | D. have |
| 51. A. climb | B. rise | C. arise | D. raise |
| 52. A. melt | B. change | C. appear | D. disappear |
| 53. A. standard | B. surface | C. appearance | D. level |

54. A.spoil B.destroy C.destruct D.cut down
55. A.good B.bad C.impossible D.possible

Part V Translation (3 points, 15%)

56. He got a message from Mr. Johnson that the manager could not see him that afternoon.
57. Let me type in your address and then open the account.
58. Please give your parents my warmest regards.
59. It is amazing the way the seven-year-old boy managed to stay so calm when he faced the emergency.
60. We will never fail to live up to what our parents expect of us.

Part VI Writing (15 points, 15%)

要求字数不少于 100 词

The value of books

[illegible]